i am trying to move things forward physically and emotionally while also respecting her beliefs and am having a tough time finding that middle ground so surely, the ultrasound results had to be wrong about 20 million people worldwide have taken zyprexa since its introduction in 1996.