The message that Pell and Bramley seemed to convey was that rbgh makes cows produce more milk and cows that give more milk are more often sick, but rbgh doesn't make cows sick.